“Quality Childcare Through Parent Participation”

About Us

College Hill Childcare Cooperative is one of the nation's only parent-operated childcare cooperative and one of only a few centers in North Carolina that utilizes parental involvement to achieve superior childcare.

Parents have the unique opportunity to participate in their child's classroom, get to know their child's friends and teachers, and directly contribute to their child's early learning. Parents are not only welcome at Coop, but they build Coop every day with and for their child. Together, our parents and teachers make Coop a very special place.

History

College Hill Childcare Cooperative was founded in 1981 by a group of parents who were dissatisfied with what they found in most child care centers; high child to teacher ratios, low quality of care and few options for parents who have flexible schedules to be involved in their child's early education.

We Offer

- Very low child to adult ratios
- Parental involvement to ensure children are in the most loving, enriching, and safest environment possible
- Flexible scheduling
- Experienced, caring teachers who provide the stability and stimulation for social, emotional, physical and intellectual development
- Enrichment opportunities through field trips, music classes, and community building activities
- A network of involved parents who provide a community of support and interaction for busy working parents

Our coop serves children from 8- weeks to 5 years of age. Our children are separated by age into five classrooms:

Infants, 1's, 2's, 3's, and 4's

Our operating hours are:
Monday through Friday
7:45am until 5:30pm

We are closed on major holidays, 2 teacher workdays, and for one week during Christmas.

What Makes Us Different

Our Coop is a true childcare cooperative, run as a non-profit corporation by parents and a six member professional staff.

All tuition is used for program expenses, including teacher salaries and classroom supplies. Our teachers are each paired with a parent staff assistant who works alongside the teacher. Our profits come from seeing our children grow and learn in the best possible environment.

From preparing snacks, changing diapers, reading stories, mopping floors, giving hugs and doing everything that is needed to assist the teacher and make the classroom an educational and nurturing place, parents are an integral part of keeping ratios low and quality high.
